NEWS OF THE DAY.

-There is a rumor that Blondin has offered "Sir Roger" one thousand dollars a week for six months to "do" the United Kingdom with him-two performences a day, "Roger" to cross the rope on the Niagara hero's back at

-Advices from Paris allege that the great loan, intended to be introduced in order to accelerate the departure of the German troops from the occupied departments, will probably be launched in the first or second week of August, and in London as well as in France.

—The State of Texas would contain the entire population of the United States, without making it any more thickly settled than Mas sachusetts, and the same State would hold the entire population of the French Empire, (or Republic that now is) and leave uninhabited a margin of sixty miles around the boundary of the State.

-Horace Greeley owns some five hundred to six hundred acres of land in Buckingham County, Virginia. The circumstances under which he acquired his landed posses sions were characteristic of his generosity and kindliness. Somebody who had been induced by the representations of the Tribune and by Mr. Greeley's personal advice to invest in Virginia lands, came back to him not long after and complained that he had been swindled by the land agents. Mr. Greeley did not have time to listen to the man's reproaches, or to make any explanation, and simply proposed to take the land off his hands, to which the other gladly and promptly consented. The land lies in the gold mine district of Buckingham County, and is said to be very poor and worthless.

-Libble Garrabrant, the Paterson, N. J., murderess, has at last been informed that the Court of Pardons dld not commute her sentence to imprisonment for life, which the liljudged dispute of a clerk in the office of the Secretary of State had informed her had been the case. She learned the truth by accident, the jall warden, Mr. Goodridge, having healtated to tell her till the court should finally adjourn, fearing the effect upon her. But when she had learned that she had still the prospect of death before her, she betrayed no otion. Meeting Mr. Goodridge, she sald: "So my sentence wasn't commuted after all. eh ?" Mr. Goodridge informed her that no official notice had vet been received, and the girl conversed about the matter with much inconcern and carelessness of manner. Her sentence is to be carried into effect on the 19th instant, unless the Court of Pardons interfere, or a respite is granted by the Gov-

.The prize ring has been supposed to b about as brutal a spectacle as men in cold blood could look upon, enjoy and encourage; but a desperate duel at Hoboken between two whose names were John Fallon and Cornelius Leary, having been at work in their slaughter house, became involved in a quarrel at "clearing up" time as to who should do the work. The bitter words soon brought them to blows. and, stripped as they were, they engaged in savage combat, when a crowd of men were attracted to the spot, who separated them; but the combatants were not satisfied, and threatened and dared until it was proposed that they should adjourn to the meadows be tween Hoboken and Jersey City and effectually settle it. The crowd of butchers followed and formed a ring. Both the bloody duelists were armed with butcher knives, with the understanding, it is said, that they should use them; at any rate the struggle had not progressed far when Leary's weapon flashed out in the gas-light and was buried in Fallon's shdomen above the right hip. Leary ther broke through the circle and ran toward Jersey city, and the sangulaary crowd, but little less guilty than he, dispersed, leaving the wounded and dying man on the grass. An officer discovered him, and also went after and arrested Leary, who was himself hurt, but not seriously. -The Germans have been transplanting their peculiar military tactics into the Western continent; and have given the frightened citizensof Port-au-Prince a taste of the Kaiser's imperiousness. Certain outrages having been committed upon German citizens by the indiscreet Haytiens, a German man-of-war obtainep prompt reparation by seizing two Haytlen war Like space and the universe, it is too big. bardment. Such strenuous measures seem to big, but an atmosphere of bigness surrounds have been unexpected by the islanders, and they were only too glad to settle the matter by giving fifteen thousand dollars to the German commander, with which generous ademnity he departed in By contrast it is excessively hum listing to learn that the Haytlen Legislature has kindly agreed to pay the American claims in twenty years from date. This arrangement is worthy of the pusillanimous direction of our State department, and appropriately supplements the Heward disgrace, the treaty muddle and the other remarkable achievements of the administration. It is not surprising that the Americans in Port-au-Prince are about to petition the government to follow the example of the Germans, but the idea that Mr. Fish is capable of any such decisive action is, if anything, more ludicrous than the idea of waiting twenty years for that which another nation obtained in less than that number of -The tyranny of the New York strikers is being cooled down somewhat and labor and capital are getting together by various sorts of compromises and concessions, and the activity among the unions has died out with the exception of the committee of twenty which is engaged in organizing the parade for the 1st of August. Both sides claim a partial victory. and both sides are right. The unreasoning absolutism with which the unions dictate certain principles to employers, fatal to any proper adjustment of the question of wages and capital, as been developed in a report of the Brown Stonecutters' Union, and, incredible as it may seem, is vouched for by mastermasons of the best standing. One of the later discharged a bad workman because he was next lottery.

unskilful, and therefore worse than unprofitable, but he stayed around the shop, and at the end of the week the union paid him his week's wages and sent the bill to the boss. To prevent friction he paid it, but at the end of the next seven days a repetition of the outrage occurred, and losing his patience he addressed the union in vigorous language, but he had the amount to pay and a fine of one hundred dollars for insulting the society, or lose contracts worth to him thirty thousand or forty thousand dollars. Among the regulations of this union is one prohibiting the use of machinery more than eight hours a day, and forbidding an employer to perform manual labor in his own trade before the time regularly allotted for work.

THE CAMPAIGN NEWS.

Greeley Against Grant-A Paper for the People.

The Presidential Campaign for 1872 has opened. It will be the most exciting that the country has ever known. The issues involved are extraordinary in character, and come directly home to every citizen. The overthrow of Grant and the election of Greeley mean Honesty and Reform in the National Administration, the triumph of Law and the restoration of Peace and Harmony throughout our land, and a return to the fundamental principles of government which prevailed in the better days of the Re-The most intense interest will naturally be felt in the progress and result of the struggle, especially in the South, where the material prosperity of the people and their relief from organized persecution and robbery are involved. The Worm at Work.

The cotton caterpillar has made its apchers proves the contrary. These men, pearance on James Island. There are two separate broods, which are scattered thinly through every field. In 1868, when the caternillars injured the crop seriously, they did not show themselves until July 16. The present showery weather adds to the danger of the situation, and makes the prospects of the planters exceedingly gloomy.

It is reported that the caterpillar is at work in Florida and Texas, as well as in Alabama, and there is reason for fearing that the growing crop will be cut short. The Bulls and the Bears will do well to remember that the cotton crop is not made until it is picked, and that the most critical months of the year are not yet begun.

-Now comes Ex-Senator Cain, who, at Newberry, exposes the venality of the Columbia Rings, and declares that a tax of ten mills (last year it was about twenty) would pay all the honest expenses of the State Government. This begins to look like Reform by Republicans, in earnest.

Unhappy Boston.

Heine himself never ridiculed the universe. There is nothing funny in space. For this reason, doubtless, the attempts to make fun of Boston and its Jubilee have been failures. You can't belittle Boston. vessels and threatening the town with bom- Not everything nor everybody in Boston is the smallest thing and person there. The Common is not so large as an ordinary Carolina cotton patch, and the Pond is a mere puddle without the mud; but think of their histories and the public opinion of Bostonians about them! What continent is a circumstance compared to their Common? What ocean is more than a drop beside their vices, and that Gevernor Scott pocketed Pond beloved?

But the Organ is undoubtedly big; the Collseum is big, and the Jubilee is big-a big failure. So vast a failure could have occurred nowhere else than in Boston. It is a failure pecuniarily and artistically. That is the sore thing. Bostonions care nothing about money; but not to succeed in a mere matter of art-ah! there comes in the gall and vitriol. For if the Hub of the Universe Monthly 3 The Gospel, according to Boston, must follow, and then comes night, chaos Universe cannot spin its little wheel if the Hub be hurted. Nor, in that event, can the wisest man tell where the spokes will fall. We are sorry for Boston, and will do all we can to help her. Let her not be downhearted. If the worst come to the worst we will get up one of our dear nice lotteries, pay Boston's entire losses, without discount, and have the Coliseum shipped here for use as a gin-house or as first premium in our

The Robbers and the Robbed, A Northern man, the other day, said to a South Carolinian who was bemoaning the rascality and corruption of the State administration: "You deserve to be robbed if you "do nothing to stop the stealing.". The point of this remark lies in the application

Before the present government was fairly installed, the schemes for cheating the people began. Out of the fluctuations of the bills receivable, out of the conversion of the bills into State bonds, out of the bill to pay the interest and principal of the State debt in coin, the knowing ones made tens of thousands. As their appetite increased, they branched out into the Land Commission and kindred schemes; each one representing so many diamonds, or five-twenties, or city lots, or wine and fast horses for those who put up the job. A year ago the general smash came, when the State debt was declared to be about $20,000,000; but even this was turned to good account by State officers who were in the secret. During the session of the Legislature last winter, other hideous disclosures were made. The four million dollars of taxes, falling due within fourteen months, proved to have been wholly insufficient to meet the rapacious demands of the Ring. New taxes were authorized, which cannot be collected without reducing a host of good citizens to bankruptcy. The interest on the public debt remained unpaid; the creditors of the State applied in vain for their money. To cap the climax, a bill was passed to give nearly two million dollars to the Blue Ridge Ring, and the attempt was made to make valid, by an act of Assembly, the bonds which one wing of the Radical party declared to have been issued in fraud. Since the adjournment of the Legislature the treasury has been empty, the public schools are closed, the State quarantine is required to be supported by the City of Charleston, the Penitentiary and the Lunatic and Deaf and Dumb Asylums are in the last extremity. Yet the taxpayers make no sign. Radicals like Judge Orr, District Attorney Corbin and Representative Bowen, denounce their old chums, and vow that the government shall be purified. But the mass of the white people, who have all to lose, who do not make politics a trade, are silent as the grave. The answer to every expostulation is that it is best to allow the rogues to fall out, and that a political movement, led by the white taxpayers, would throw back the better Radicals into the extended arms of the Scott-Mackey-Moses crew. But we are talking business, not politics. There are other ways of punishing rascality than at the ballot-box. When the weapon is put in your hands, Taxpayers of South Carolina! is it not your interest and duty to use it? The Taxpayers' Convention, which met in May, 1871, was a grand engine for attack and defence. That Convention was composed of the best men in the State. It was, all in all, the strongest representative body brought together in South Carolina in ten years. It came to nothing, or worse than nothing; although it could have been a permanently active organization, holding a suparvisory control over the financial affairs of the State. This convention ratifled a debt of ten million dollars and adjourned. There was the end of it. No effort was made to stop the stealing or to punish the thieves. But it may be said that there was and is no evidence upon which to found judicial proceedings against the suspected officials. There was abundant prima facie evidence; there is far more. Passing by the scorching denunciation of the Whittemore-Bowen report, and the startling charges which it contained, we find a new array of grave accusations in cases now before the courts.

The first case is that of Mr. Gary, the State Auditor, who applies for an injunction to restrain the State officers from receiving the Blue Ridge or Revenue Bond Scrip in payment of any sums due the State, and to restrain the County Treasurers from paying out any money upon the order of the State Treasurer. Auditor Gary maintains that the Revenue Bond Scrip is invalid, and his counsel allege that Treasurer Purker has paid out hundreds of thousands of dollars in plain violation of law. And Mr. Parker, in his affidavit, admits that he paid out half a million dollars for the legislative expenses of last session, and three hundred and fifty thousand dollars in due-bills on the treasury. Besides this, there are bushels of unpaid pay certificates issued by Lieutenant-Governor Rensier and Speaker Moses. This last charge was anticipated by Senator Corbin, who, in his Fourth of July speech, declared that Speaker Moses had issued $400,000 of pay bills to people all over the State, as bribes to support him and enhance his popularity. The case of Auditor Gary is now before Judge Willard in Columbia. The second case is that of John M. Mac kay, of New York, against the Blue Ridge Railroad; an application for an injunction to restrain the officers of the road from disposing of any of the Revenue Bond Scrip, and for the appointment of a receiver. In his complaint Mr. Mackay swears, amongst other things, that the funds of the road were fraudulently misapplied, that large sums of Bond Scrip were paid to various persons, that Treasurer Parker received $50,000 before he would sign the scrip. To this might be added the current report that Speaker Moses was paid heavily for his ser-$50,000 or more. This case may come up to-day. To it the City of Charleston has been made a party by the City Attorney, Major Corbin.

The third case is that of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad, which alleges that a fraudulent issue of $1,500,000 in bonds have been made. In the Greenville and Columbia and Blue Ridge Railroads, and in the charges against fail in so simple a thing as music, what the Ring in general, the same names connext? Is literature safe? May not the irate stantly appear. Governor Scott, Treasurer gods decree the downfall of the Atlantic Parker, Speaker Moses, Comptroller Neagle and "honest" John Patterson are the persons who figure in each and and a good deal of botheration. For the every conspiracy. They, with their agents and tools, form the Ring. They are the men whom it is desired to strike. The New York bondholders are moving, and have no difficulty in finding a way to get into court. Private stockholders and bondholders continue to apply for injunctions, and to throw the Ring on the defensive before the courts of the State. But the taxpayers, with all the facts before them, twiddle their thumbs, and await the leader who never comes. They should be most concerned, because the stealings come out of their pockets. They are the persons who should make the fight; who should at least try to unmask the frauds and punish the perpetrators. How long is this inaction, this lying still to be kicked, to continue ? How long shall it be in the power of any man to say that the people of South Carolina deserve to be robbed, because they make no effort to catch
